

The anterior portion of the left SI joint (red oval) and the symphysis pubis (double headed red arrow) are too wide, indicating that the left anterior sacroiliac, sacrotuberous and sacrospinous ligaments are torn. The posterior left SI joint is normal, indicating that the posterior sacroiliac ligament is intact.

